HICKMAN ON MAP.

Our City Extreme Western Point on Ky. Aerial Route Map.

Activities on the part of airmen at Godman Field, Kentucky's only flying center, in connection with Victory Liberty Loan campaign, have helped to develop a movement to put Kentucky in the lead of other States in establishing aviation on a permanent basis for com-mercial and mail projects. Plans work-ed out by Lieut. Col. John N. Reynolds. until recently commanding officer of Godman Field, will be put into effect, it is announced.

After assuming command of Godman Field on March 5, Col. Reynolds was instrumental in initiating two move ments which undoubtedly will do much toward promotion of aviation, both commercially and otherwise; namely an aerial photographic map of a large section of the State, as well as a plan for organizing the entire State in a movement for a system of aerial routes. by numbering towns a certain distance apart, along with the preparation of landing fields in every county.

Fulton county is to have two landing points-Hickman and Fulton, the route being direct from Stithton to Mayfield, thence to either of these

With the maps now available, crosscountry flying is a more or less, and in most cases more, dangerous undertaking. Ordinarily, clouds are to be found at altitudes lower than the height at which it is considered safe to fly over territories unknown to the aviator. Frequently the pilot is unable to properly maintain a course above the clouds and upon coming down below them he finds that he cannot locate himself on the map. It is then necessary to make a landing to ascertain his position, otherwise he might and himself much further off his course. If the field picked out for a landing does not prove to be a good one, a "crash" is likely to result. If a field cannot be found that

This field should be of firm and level turf, approximately 1,200 feet square (900 feet square might do if nothing better is to be had) and should be free from obstacles such as trees, houses, etc., in or near the field. It was announced today that the flotilla would rendezvous at New Orleans and then proceed upstream as far as possible.

conquest of Typhoid Is Compared by Physicians With Tetanus Victory

Wonderful achievement in medicine comparable with the victory over tetanus is the conquest of typhoid fever. Typhold fever has been one of the historic pestilences of armies. The discovery in 1880 of the germ which caused it was one of the very earliest achievements of the bacteriologists. Yet even in 1898, writes Maj. W. W. Keen in Yale Review, when I published a book on the "Surgical Complications and Sequels of Typhoid Fever," so little was positively known about it that I had to assemble proofs that the typhold bacillus could reach the blood stream, that it could cause abscesses in bones and muscles, could cause gangrene of the tissues and even of whole limbs, infections of the gall bladder, and many other surgical disorders. In that same year in the war with Spain we learned a fearful lesson of what it could do. Every fifth man in our army of 107,000 was attacked with typhold. It caused over 86 per cent of all the deaths in that war. Had the same ratio held in the British army of over 5,000,000 in the world war there would have been more than 1,000,000 eases of typhoid. Instead of that, down to November, 1916, there had been only 4,571 cases! In our own army on the Mexican border in 1916, among 20,000 troops only one man fell ill with typhoid, although it was prevalent in near-by towns. In our present army, from September 2, 1917, to January 25, 1918, with a daily average of 742,625 men assembled from all over the country, often from places where autumnal typhoid was taking its annual toll of lives, only 119 cases of typhold occurred. Had the 1898 rate prevalled there would have been 144,-568 cases. As soon as all these recruits were protected by vaccination, the case rate fell so rapidly that in the 17 weeks from December 7, 1917, to April 5, 1918-a period longer than our war with Spain-there were only ten cases among probably nearly 1,-000,000 men.

Why French Girls Prefer To Wed Yanks Instead of Natives of Own Country

If that is so, several weeks an inquiry conducted by L'Oeuvre, Paris daily newspaper which publishes a series of letters setting forth the reasons that have guided the writers to give preference to Americans over their compatriots.

Those who would rather large percentage of young French women confess to a wholehearted admiration of the average American's breezy good humor and courtesy of manner toward the other sex.

Several French girls who have had opportunity to observe American home life appreciate the easy camaraderie between the sexes, and they come to the conclusion that a good comrade must make a good husband.

Some fair writers say that French lovers are given to talking overmuch and are too fussy about their personal appearance.

Migration of Butterflies Is a Most Beautiful Sight

A man from South America recently came north. He stopped for some time in Panama, and in speaking of the country he said: "One of the most beautiful sights in the world is the annual migration of the butterflies across the Isthmus of Panama. Where they come from and whither they go no one knows, and though many distinguished naturalists have attempted to solve the problem, it is still as taxes, donations, etc. strange a mystery as it was the first time a European traveler beheld the

Norwegians Expert Whalers; Big Fortunes Made in Oil

The Norwegians are the most expert whalers today, and the most successful whaling ground just now is the South Atlantic, in the neighborhood of South Georgia, the South Shetlands, and the South Orkneys. The use of steam whalers has produced an enor-mous increase, for whereas in 1906 only 183 whales were caught in the Antarctic islands, last year 7,516 were caught, the total value of the products being $7,560,000. No fewer than 268,000 barrels of oil, valued at $5,-150,000, were got from the whales; the bone brought $8,750, and the guano, $12,005. In addition there were 2,491 sea elephants and 75 sea leopards killed, valued at $130,000.

Windows in the Philippines,

One curtous thing noted by Americans in the Philippines was the use by natives of seashells in lieu of window glass. There is a bivaive mollusk, native to the waters of that part of the world, which has a shell seven or eight inches in diameter, so thin as to be translucent. It is plentiful and costs nothing. Glass is expensive.

It is high time the business men of Hickman were lining up on this project, if they are interested in a third railroad for the town. Our interests will be governed largely by the terminal plans of the company—whether but the bartender told them the bar but the or not it will be on this side of the river—and we should get in touch with the proportors supply them. The crowd then went be-low, found where they could buy the bottled goods and were told to have their money ready—$6 per quart. The money was laid down and the bottled goods handed out, working hurriedly and getting away with their bottles, Hickman being a dry town and the leggers trying to avoid authorities. A large number is said to have made purchases while the boat was pulling out.
Upon getting out, the first fellow opening a bottle and taking a swallow, found he had paid $6 for a quart of found he had paid $6 for a quart of vinegar, and every other purchaser found his bottle to contain the same. Although a fraud was perpetrated—nothing can be done. The "leggers" did not tell the boys what they were getting, neither was the local option law violated. Selling vinegar, too, is legitimate, but the price is what hurt.

The illusion fortification, moving along in caterpillar style, at about 10 miles an hour, was driven up near the sales booth and put on exhibition. It also served the purpose of a speakers' stand, from which interesting talks in behalf of the loan were delivered by two members of the tank crew-Lieut C. R. Born and Private E. W. PHONE RATES UP.

Telephone Service Costs More—Both Residence and Business.

Effective today, and in compliance with an order from Postmaster General Burleson, telephone rates throughout the country take a jump sky-ward. As a result Hickmanites will contribute about $1,000 a year more to the Cumberland Co. alone. Only a short time ago, toll rates went up; now phones in business houses and residences will come higher.

The old Hickman rate to business houses was $2.75 a month; the new rate is $3.00. Old residence rate $1.65. new rate $2.00. Old two-party line rate was $1.40 and goes to $1.50. Fiveparty line rate (just named, which means outside the city), business. $2.00; residence $1.25.

We have before us eleven typewritten pages of camouflage argument setting forth the reasons for this advancewhich we take with a big pinch of salt. For instance "more than 50 cents of every dollar now goes for wages-ejther direct rates or taxes the only remedy." Just fancy a corresponding advance in wages for the Hickman force ;and picture yourself paying direct taxes to support telephone companies. Burley, old boy, you get our Nanny. When it comes to reaching into the citizen's pocketbook and passing the long green over—you are without a peer. The attitude of the public reminds us of the fool who hired a man to rob him. The sooner the government can turn loose of the railway and wire systems—the better for the people.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

MRS. S. L. ROYSTER ENTERTAINS.

Last Thursday, April 24th, the ladies of the Aid Society of the First Baptist church, enjoyed a pleasant treat in a social way at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sid. L. Royster four miles from town. Once a year Mrs. Royster arranges for the ladies of the Society to spend the day with her and the occasion is looked forward to with pleasure by all the members of the Society. Each member had taken a piece of work for the benefit of the Society and by ten o'clock a good representation had assembled and were busy with their needles and enjoying the social conversation. At noon the guests were invited to the dining room where their ner. The table was literally loaded from one end to the other with good L. P. Ellison and L. H. FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

It is very important that every department of the church should have a report of the conditions of the work and the progress accomplished so that the members may know how the work is succeeding. Next Sunday morning the regular business conference will be held after the morning service. The morning subject will be "Americanism and Baptist Teachings." The evening subject will be, "The Prayers of Devils Answered." Services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. -H. M. Crain, Pastor.

On account of the cloud of dust continually in the air on Clinton street, some action should be taken toward oiling or paving it. Either of these can be done without cost to the city. Individuals will foot the bill for oiling if some one will start it; or, the city fathers can order the street paved and assess the cost to the property owners. It was figured out a few years ago that this street, being narrow, could be concreted for the price of one season's sprinkling. War restrictions have been removed and there is no excuse now for the main street of any town being in such condition. We need to wake up and get on the job. If the city is broke and can't do anything, let individuals put their shoulders to the wheel and start something.

Hickman, the chain rack east of the Courier office has laid on the ground a year or more, for lack of setting up a year or more, for lack of setting up a post or two. Why not have a little work or money out of the fellows who owe Hickman $1000 in lines assessed last year but never collected. If they are physically unfit for labor, or all-in financially—what about their bondsmen? No excuse for this kind of business. The city could use either labor or money to a good advantage interor money to a good advantage just EXCHANGE TELEPHONE RATES EFFECTIVE MAY 1, 1919.

A new schedule of telephone exchange rates became effective in Hickman, Ky., May 1, by direction of the Operating Board of the United States Telegraph and Telephone Administration, acting under the order of Postmaster General of the Uni-

As you know, all of the lines and property of this company are in the possession, control and are being operated by the United States Government under the direction of the Postmaster General of the United States.

The new rates are necessary in order that additional revenue may be secured by the government to meet the increased operating expenses. The causes which make greater telephone revenue necessary are due to the new conditions and the new price levels introduced by the war and are entirely beyond the control of the United States Telegraph and Telephone Administration or of the Telephone

More than two years ago the Company foresaw that the telephone system would be operated at a loss unless the rates could be adjusted to meet the increasing costs of all elements entering into the production of service. A similar rate adjustment would have been unavoidable under private control and the new rate schedule is practically the same we would have sought in 1918 if the government had not taken possession of our property.

As stated by the Postmaster General, the owners of the telephone system do not benefit in any way from rate changes. Practically all of the increased operating expenses which require this additional revenue are due to increased wages paid to employes to enable them to meet the new conditions of life in the present day.

It is neither practicable nor desirable to reduce wages, and so far as wages are concerned we believe that portion of the increased operating expenses to be permanent.

The new rate schedule is fair and reasonable and the percentage of increased revenue which it will produce is much lower than the increased cost of other services and commodities of a similar char-

Complete detailed information about the new rates may be obtained at the manager's office. We are making every effort to change our records promptly, and your courteous consideration will be appreciated. The new rate for your service is shown on your statement for May 1.

LOOKING BACKWARD.

Historical Data of Pioneer Days in Hickman and Fulton County; Facts and Traditions Anent the Hundredth Anniversary of Hickman.

-Compiled by Judge B. T. Davis .-

Hickman is one hundred years old metime in the year of 1919. Just that day or what month the first sot ler came and just where the first cabin was built in which he lived or which ne used as a store room is now difficult if not impossible to locate. The memory of man can scarcely be It is a matter of history that this dace was first known as Mills Point

It was several years later that the town became known as Hickman. Its name was probably changed because of the name of the county. In 1821 the territory of Kentucky west of the Tennessee river was formed into Hickman county but that set provided for the formation of the counties of Graves, Calloway and Mc-Cracken out of the same territory Graves county now has the original boundaries assigned to it. Calloway included that portion of the territory that is east of the eastern line of Graves county extending north to the Tennesee River. Hickman county, as originally formed, included all the territory west of Graves county and south of Mayfield Creek and McCracken county included the remainder of the territory.

Just who was the first settler in that portion of the territory which is now Fulton county and the place of ettlement is a matter of great interest. It can now be ascertained only by tradition. Perhaps the records of conveyances of the lands and the patents granted to the settlers upon the ands might tend to confirm a tradiion giving the name of the first settler and the place of his residence.

Among the names to be found in the earliest records of Fulton county are Maddox, Shaw, Prather, Marr, Waton, Tyler, McFadden and Miles.

The first deed recorded in Fulton county was a conveyance to Greenber ry Watson, conveying to him the northwestern quarter of Section 48, T 1. R 6 West. This is a quarter of land on the Mississippi River near what was formerly known as the Gulf, and, as near as can be ascertained, as the home place of Mr. S. L. DeBow. Perhaps a considerable portion of this original quarter has fallen into the Mississippi River.

Memphis has also completed the century run this year and great prepaartions are being made for a suitable celebration. It is not known yet whether or not Hickman will attempt any celebration of this event which is the first occurrence of this kind in its lifetime. In order that tradition, historical facts and incidents occurring in the Snake Rolls early life of the settlement, when the country was covered with cane, and may not be forgotten and may be pu in written record, this paper will derote each week space for publication. The citizens interested in preserving printed forms of the incidents of the early settlement of the vicinity are invited to contribute to this column. Suitable articles will be published in due time, preference being given to those oldest in point of time. Inci-dents occurring in the earliest development of Hickman are particularly de-sirable. The location of old buildings, the mills and warehouses are inter-

It is said that the houses first built on the north side of Clinton street were built upon large blocks so high above the ground that horses could be hitched under the floors of such houses. Just how far the river was from the business houses in the early d y is a matter of inquiry.

If sufficient matter is contributed to this column it may be made very interesting as well as a printed record for the citizens of the vicinity of all matters connected with the early setlement and of interesting incidents and anticdotes.

(Editor's note: Judge Davis has kindly consented to edit this column for the Courier each week. It will be found of special interest to both old and young; and our older readers, especially, can materially assist Judge Davis by giving him any information they may posess of interesting inci-dents of the early days of both town We trust it will also be an incentive F. Is Your Car Built or Just Put Together?

There's a lot of difference in results between the two methods. A car that is put together from the products of a score or more of parts-makers represents just that many standards of construction, no two of which are likely to be exactly the same.

Briscoe cars are 99% built in Briscoe plants. Briscoe engineers not only design the car, but they stand guard over every process of manufacture, and see that it is up to Briscoe requirements.

That is why Briscoe cars set unmatchable standards of operating economy, of consistent performance, of all-around satisfaction. That is why, too, when you need a spare part you get it with a minimum of delay and at a moderate expense.

Brief Description of Itinery of Fulton County Farm Tour.

The following description of the Better Farming" tour last Wednesday we swipe from the Fulton Leader. gives one an idea of who our lead ng farmers are, what they raise and

The "Better Farming" automobile trip across Fulton county Wednesday was a delightful success and one of the best and biggest affairs of its kind ver pulled off in the county.

Promptly at 9 o'clock Wednesday norning between seventy-five and undred automobiles, carrying four to even passengers each, left Fulton on be trip, making about a two-mile here the crowd viewed a model pouly house and was given a brief talk by M. Gordon, county agent, on poul-Mr. King is one of Fulton counyoung progressive farmers, and rrounding his handsome two-story welling is 52 acres of fertile land which he is cultivating on scientific ethods with wonderful success and raising fine hogs. His poultry is only side line, but in this, too, he is takng advantage of the county agent's nowledge, and with eighty hens durng the past winter averaged forty eggs per day. He has a nice flock of white leghorns, which he says are the ner are due special credit. est layers.

The next stop was at Ed Thompson's alfalfa field. Mr. Thompson is recogized as one of the best farmers in this icinity, and his alfalfa, clover and ill other crops are as fine as you will ee anywhere. Mr. Gordon took occaion here to impart some of his knowledge on how to grow alfalfa and clover successfully. Prof. Good said the alfalfa was as fine as that grown on any oottom land.

At this point the crowd had a good pportunity of seeing the new county motor road grader at work. All were delighted with the road work done by

The next stop was at Leslie Nugent's heat field, some of which was waist high and should yield, with continued good season, 45 bushels per acre. Mr. Nugent has followed closely the county agent's instructions with wonderful success. Leslie and his father, D. C. Nugent, cultivated about 140 acres, 75 acres of which is in crimson clover. We understand this clover was cut twice last year and is 12 inches high Mr. Nugent is experimenting with wheat this year to test the best methods of treating the soil. He has model poultry house and a fine lot f chickens. He is another one of the best young farmers in the county. Dave Nugent, father of Leslie, is another good farmer that's making a record for himself. Many have commented on his red clover field seeded in Sept.

The next stop was at Arch Mc.Murray's sweet clover field one of the finest in Western Kentucky. The place was recently purchased from Marvin Browder, a farmer who believed in scientific farming. Mr. McMurry is keeping up Mr. Browder's record and high ideals of the farm. In passing the farms of Boyd, West, Allie and B. E. Browder, Leighman Drysdale, Morgan Davidson, John Ridder, A. F. Inman and Chas. Nugent, some fine wheat, alfalfa and other crops were favorably commented upon. These men are among Fulton county's est farmers, and all live in pretty

After leaving the "Middle road," the auto party cut across to John Wade's, and John Wade's for more than two nours was the center of attraction, not hours was the center of attraction, not on account of having the most up-to-date and modern stock barn in Ken-tucky, or because he is the best stock-man and farmer in Fulton county, but because it was at John Wade's that Morgan O. Hughes, of Bowling Green, and Prof. E. S. Good, head of animal husbandry department of the College of Agriculture, made very instructive speeches, and the big fish fry was served-a dinner fit for a king. Mr. Wade had the honor of cooking the fish which was served in the beautiful grove near in each month. Visiting brothers always welcome.—H. W. Whipple, Master, W. F. Rennenberg. Sec'y.

John Wade is one of the best stockmen and farmers in Fulton county, and for years was a partner of W. P. Nash, of Union City. Mr. Wade's stock barn was admired and said to be by Messrs. Hughes and Good, one of the most modern and complete in the state. The concrete silo has a capacity of 180 tons, and the 50 by 125 foot barn is so constructed that one man can feed 100 head of cattle in an hour and a half without touching the ground. His cotton seed meal room is built of concrete, as well as the watering trough. He has other stock barns, as well as ten large tobacco barns. His pretty home place, equipped with electric lights, water works and all modern conveniences, is surpounded by one thousand fertile acres upon which tobacco, corn, wheat clover, alfalfa and other crops are grown to perfection. His 38-acre alfalfa field is a beauty.

At 2:30 the party left Mr. Wade's for Ed Green's farm, where Mr. Green was feeding 100 hogs on a five-acre clover patch in connection with balanced rations in self-feeders.

After passing the Raymond Mitchell and Bowen farms and the McNeil pretty stucco bungalows, the auto party stopped at J. W. Mays' to see his 900-pound pure-bred Hampshire hogged polled cattle and fine Hampshire sheep.

ideal stock farm, where the crowd admired his beautiful $2,000 white Shortorn-Durham bull-the finest in Western Kentucky, also fine horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and chickens. The Tyler place is one of the finest in this county and was the home of the late Capt. H. A. Tyler.

The next stop was at Julian Choate's upper place, where his herd of 125 Herefords were admired by the crowd. Going through Hickman to the lower bottoms a number of beautiful alfalfa fields were admired, especially the 170-acre field of Julian Choate and that of Roscoe Stone. In the lower bottoms the farms were made without an accident, notwithstanding that between 75 and 100 utomobiles were in line.

If Fulton county continues to improve along farming lines within the ext five years as it has in the past two or three years it will be the banner county of the state. Much of the improvement is due to the faithful work of M. M. Gordon, county agent, and the liberal use of limestone and phosphate. Keep the good work up, and let the height of every farmer's ambition be soil fertility and better farming.

Why not let the fish-fry be an annual event?

Everybody enjoyed the trip and we are due John Wade, the speakers and the members of the Fulton Commercial Club a vote of thanks as well as our efficient county agent, M. M. Gordon. As a host John Wade is the best we know of and those who assisted him in cooking the fish and serving the din-

Farmer Turns Sandy Tract of Land Into Flourishing Forest Within Few Years

England and Scotland are preparing to replant forests which have been cut to provide war supplies. They are doing it now. Never before have those countries been so bare of timber. Hunting ranges and sporting grounds have been sacrificed to supply munition factories at home and armies abroad. The old forests were primarily ornamental and incidentally useful, but those which are now being deliberately provided for will be primarily useful and incidentally ornamental, says Popular Mechanics

In the United States we are not in so much need of tree planting as they are in the British isles. But there are two kinds of timber which the war demand has greatly depleted, and they are kinds of much importance, locust and black walnut.

There is another point to be considered in the planting of these trees: They can be grown on sandy tracts of land which are now considered of no value, and thus reclaim this land.

An excellent illustration of what can be accomplished in the way of replanting of trees has been carried out during the last six or eight years by a resident of Whiteside county, Illinois. In these years he has accomplished the seemingly impossible task of turning some 70 acres of sand, formerly as barren as the desert of Sahara, into a flourishing forest. Nor is that all: for this forest, acting as a sand binder, has been the means of saving other fertile acres from the inroads of the drifting sand, the total result being that the farm has increased several times in value. The sandy tracts, which, before being planted to trees, were practically worthless, are now worth anywhere from $50 to $100 an

A man's work should always mean more to him than a mere means of livelihood. He should draw from it happiness, contentment, peace of mind. This he can do only if he looks upon his work as contributing something worth while to the lives of his fellow men. For men are so built that the consciousness of rendering service is an instinctive need of their being. Those who have not this consciousness are certain to be unhappy, whether they do not work at all or work up to the limit of their powers and whether the monetary return from their work is small or great.
